

We deliver!

by Tammy Roberge, Preschool Director

This month our students have enjoyed learning more about how the post office works. They have written letters, “mailed” them in the special temple office post box, and received many cards, letters, and postcards in return!

Our classroom amaryllis is growing taller every day, reminding us that spring is on the way!

Students have also learned more about oxygen this month. They learned that trees give us oxygen, and tried some breathing experiments, including blowing bubbles and balloons.
